Perdriel, Luján de Cuyo.

VINEYARD

- Vineyard: Los Andes Vineyard in Perdriel, Luján de Cuyo.
- Altitude: 1,050 meters above sea level, French vine rootstocks.
- Year of planting: 1994.
- Production per hectare: 6,500 Kg/ha.

HARVEST

- Harvest method: handpicked in 18 kg boxes.
- Characteristics of the year: Spring time was warm and Summer fresh and a bit humid. Since December till the date of the harvest, it was a little bit rainy, but the vineyard remained healthy. There were medium temperatures during the day and very fresh at nights during March. The resulting wines will present a marked aromatic intensity, structure, medium maturity and crisp acidity.

WINEMAKING

- After destemming the clusters, the berries are selected in a selection table.
- Fermentation and maceration are carried out in 80 Hl. stainless steel tanks. During the first weeks, the wines were homogenized through punch downs, commonly known as "Piagage Manuel" made by hand.
- Maceration: 25 days in total.
- Slightly pressed in a pneumatic press.
- Malolactic fermentation in tanks.
- French oak barrel aging for a period of 12 months: 1/3 brand new, 1/3 second use, 1/3 third use casks.
- Soft clarification, unfiltered.
- Bottle aging: 6 months minimum.

TASTING NOTES

-Color: It displays a rich and dark ruby red color.

-Nose: Spicy, fruity and intense. It features aromas of red and black pepper and wild fruits such as blueberries, cassis, strawberries and delicate notes of quince. After swirling the glass, it features soft aromas of licorice and caramel that give this wine complexity and grace.

-Mouth: It is an inviting and easy to drink wine. On palate, the scents of spices and wild fruits can be perceived. Its ripe and sweet tannins give to this wine a compact body and a lively and creamy structure. It is an elegant wine whose freshness gives it a persistent and velvety finish.
